

Universal Capture Plug-in™

Support for Specialized Capture Devices

- ◆ Use hybrid capture devices such as scanner-copiers
- ◆ Capture information on paper with non-Kofax and non-ISIS scanners
- ◆ Leverage existing resources to capture digital images
- ◆ Use specialized capture devices such as microfilm scanners

The Necessity of Flexible Information Capture

The first necessity when solving the paper problem is capturing the vital information it holds within its margins. Contemporary offices use a variety of devices to get that job done: scanners, scanner-copier hybrids, fax-copier-scanner hybrids, microfilm and x-ray scanners, large format scanners and the list goes on.

Use Preferred Capture Devices

An effective digital archival and retrieval solution allows your organization to capture information on paper with your preferred capture devices. If one central scanner-copier hybrid is best for your office, for instance, or if your industry requires specialized hardware such as x-ray scanners, your solution will provide tools to accommodate those needs. It will leverage existing resources to capture digital images without expensive investments in additional hardware.
